Digital storytelling is an approach that allows media novices to produce brief (2-3 minute) videos by blending their own voices, still photography, & video clips to create short movies about real-life experiences. Our vision is for communities to produce, disseminate, & utilize their media projects to spark dialogue to create change. The digital storytelling workshop fosters a sense of community, provides hands-on experience, and supports sustainability.

At this intensive three-day training, you will learn:

- Digital story development.
- Apply digital stories for community development.
- Tools & best practices to aid in co-creating more stories.
- Teach others to create digital stories.
